BOOK BLURB™

Unconditional by Nycki Whiting

Come and take some time to read this author's first book, a collection of short stories, Atlanta author, Nycki Whiting published her first book in late 2005. There are other books planned for this year, 2007, & 2008.

This book is a collection of six short stories, The Visit, Second Thoughts, The Breakup, Setting a Screen, Troubled, & Coral's Apology that involve family relationships and different life events. Have you had cold feet before your wedding? Have you had second thoughts about your boyfriend being right for you? Have you wanted to reunite with college chums? Have you felt the higher power working in your life?

No matter your station in life, there is some aspect of all the stories that will touch your heart and provide food for thought. Interspersed between the stories are poems from Shonda Rowe and Melanie White Eley among others. We enjoyed these six stories and look forward to the upcoming work.

Rated T for Thought Provoking
